INTERESTING TABLE

Shown in the Annual Report of the Maysville Public Schools Shows Comparative Costs of Instruction in the Schools.

In an interesting table shown in the annual report of the Maysville Public School, now being gotten out by the Ledger, here is shown the comparative costs of instruction of each pupil in each of the schools in the city.

The table first gives the number of pupils in each school in the city. This is based on the average attendance in each of the schools during the last school term. The first item is the cost of instruction. The second item taken into consideration is the cost of operation, janitors and school officers, fuel, light, supplies and telephones. The cost of maintenance is wholly in insurance, replacements and repairs. The last item to be taken into consideration are the prorated expenses—supervision. These several items have been worked out and the amounts are set in every case.

School	Average Attendance	Cost	All Costs
Building	177	$20.76	$29.11
Forest Ave.	171	17.23	25.08
Centra Graded	109	40.75	51.51
High School	199	19.72	13.39
First District	73	14.40	22.07
Sixth Ward	122	19.05	28.08
Col. High	127	18.89	21.90

This table has been prepared at very great amount of labor and time spent. Each parent and taxpayer should get one of the reports when they are issued and study this table very carefully as it shows where each dollar was spent last year.

MEXICAN BANDITS

Camp Across From Texas Town—Conflicting Reports Regarding Size of Force of Mariano Tames.

El Paso, Texas, August 8—About 650 outlaws under Mariano Tames, a former Villa colonel, are encamped tonight on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, about thirteen miles below Ysleta, Texas, which is about twelve miles east of here according to reports to American military headquarters. The reports which were unconfirmed said that in an effort to elude the Carranza cavalry pursuing Tames, who yesterday was reported near Samalayuca, had made his way north and east toward Caragosa, almost opposite Ysleta, but that he had announced he did not intend to raid the American frontier.

His band, it was stated, has been greatly augmented in the last twenty-four hours by recruiting peons and deserters from the Juarez garrisons. Government officials in Juarez, said, however, that Tames, who left Juarez last week with the announced intention of joining Villa, had less than a dozen men with him.

Five Mexican Bandits Condemned And Shot

Chihuahua City, Mexico, August 8—General Trevino received a report today that five Villa bandits captured in the Mapimi region, have been condemned and shot. Court martials are sitting this week in the cases of the bandits captured at San Ignacio, who belong to the band engaged with the Americans near Fort Hancock, and those brought from Gordo. The Cerro Gordo men claim in defense that they were captured by Villa at Jimenez and impressed by him under threats of death.

HUGHES EXTOLS U. S. CITIZENSHIP IN CHICAGO TALK

Title Should Be Proudest in World, Says Candidate After Ovation in Coliseum—The G. O. P. Policy Is Outlined by Leader—Administration Is Floyed in Speech That Paralleled Detroit Address.

Chicago, August 8 — Charles E. Hughes tonight told an audience that crowded Chicago's great coliseum, the hall where he was nominated what he would do if elected President of the United States.

Mr. Hughes charged the present administration with waste, extravagance and vacillation. He declared that it has not kept the country out of war, but that it had fought and ignominious war in Mexico and had withdrawn from that war ignominiously. He charged the administration with having brought the country much nearer to participation in the European war than the country would have been had the "administration stood on American rights."

Protection Policy Flayed
 He declared it was no more possible to expect tariff protection to American industry from a Democratic Congress than it would be to get a revival sermon out of a disorderly house.

The nominee assailed the administration also for its appointments to office and declared that if elected he would appoint to office only men who were well qualified.

Democratic expenditures for rivers and harbors were attacked by the nominee.

"I suppose that we shall stop this pork business," he said. "I propose that we shall have government in a business like way. We won't have any more, if I can stop it, of 'kiss me and I'll kiss you' appropriation in Congress."

"No Hot Air" or Candidate
 The nominee said he stood for a "business like responsible budget," based on fact.

"I do not want any hot air in mine," he added.

"The Democratic party," Mr. Hughes said, was approaching the idea of a protective tariff, "like a skittish horse to a brass band." In 1912, he added, the Democratic platform had said in effect that a protective tariff was unconstitutional. They say in effect now that the European war has changed the constitution of the United States, he continued, "but do you think they are converted. Don't you trust them a little minute with protecting American industries. They have not got it in their bones."

Detroit Speech Repeated
 Mr. Hughes reiterated much of his Detroit speech regarding the administration's Mexican policy.

"It has no right to commit this country to a course of conduct which landed Mexico in anarchy, left our citizens a prey to the ravages of revolution and make our name a word of contempt in a sister republic."

"We have gone forward," the nominee said, in speaking of the administration's Mexican policy, "with a determination to be destructive, not constructive, to destroy all they had."

Foreign Policy Discussed
 As to the administration's foreign policy Mr. Hughes said:

"I propose that we have a new birth of American purpose and courage. We have no occasion to fear war in the assertion of those rights, which all recognize and only respect us for maintaining. But if we are glib in speech, if we indicate that we are not ready to meet the full responsibility that our words imply we are pushed a little further and a little further until some fine day events occur which arouse an implacable resentment from one end of the country to the other. That is the danger of war."

"This administration has come nearer to landing us in war by its weakness than it would have ever have come had it stood faithfully for American rights and had let it be known that they would be defended."

Ovation in Coliseum

"I believe that with our peaceful purposes, our just purposes we have no occasion to be drawn into strife if we are prepared, if we are dignified, if we show that we mean what we say. And I desire that as we look to the future, we shall have American citizenship, the proudest title in the world; American administration as efficient as any in the world and American honor the cherished thought of every American citizen."

Mr. Hughes spoke for nearly an hour. He entered a hall that was so jammed that even the steel cross girders were utilized for seats. The audience cheered him for five minutes before he spoke. A brass band, perched in a loft at the far end of the hall played the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" during the demonstration, but the music was lost in the volume of other sounds.

The nominee left at 10:45 o'clock for St. Paul.

STILL WEDDED TO ITS FOLLY

That remarkable literary document sent out from the St. Louis convention as the platform of the Democratic party is emphatically clear on some scattered points. One of these is the unqualified endorsement of the administration shipping bill, now pending before congress. That this measure was rejected a year ago does not lessen the devotion of the president and his secretary of the treasury to its provisions, and they will make all efforts to secure its passage. As at present pending the measure does not in any material way differ from the one that failed in the last congress. It provides for the appropriation of $50,000,000 to be invested in merchant vessels but the seagoing trade, these to be sold or leased to private owners, with the provision that the government has a prior claim upon their services in event of war.

This means the investment of public money in enterprise into which private capital hesitates to venture. The absurdity of the whole thing climaxes in the fact that it is the serious proposal of a party that has always pretended to shrink from subventions of any kind, especially from the payment of subsidies or bonuses. It is also part of the record of the Democratic administration that it forced American ships to pay tolls through the Panama canal, a concession to the shipping interests of Europe. A further anachronism is that the measure will open American coastwise trade to foreign vessels thus compelling the direct competition of our merchant marine with the world in the only field of profit that has been preserved to it by protective laws.

Objections to the Wilson-McAdoo shipping bill have often been stated, and do not lose any weight because of the inclusion of the measure in the St. Louis platform.—Omaha Bee.

THE SLUMP BEGINS

The manufacturing boom that has been sweeping the United States as the result of the allies' war orders is about to wane. A big slump is looked for in the business of making munitions for the entente powers, and, in fact, has already set in.

Thousands of workmen have been dismissed by various firms who have closed the doors of plants created or enlarged for the purpose of putting out arms, ammunition and war material for England, France and Russia.

Most of the contracts let early in the war have been filled. In many cases there were no renewals.

The foregoing dispatch appearing in several of the largest papers of the country is evidence that the assertion of Republicans that the present prosperity of the country is born of the European war and not sprung from sound conditions locally is true. It slumphy goes to show that when the war is over, yes, even perhaps before it is over, now that Great Britain claims to have 90 new arsenals and 4,000 controlled firms putting out munitions, the relapse will come. With proper legislation from congress the full effect of the blow may be diminished, but there is no indication of any reason to hope for such legislation from the present congress. Its majority is not composed of men who are pursuing the right theory.—South Bend Tribune.

EASILY PROVED

"If Mr. Hughes knows that this amazing prosperity is only temporary, how is he going to prove it?" yells the greatly disturbed New York World.

Why, it doesn't need proof. Any schoolboy knows that immense orders for munitions of war are coming into this country, that vast amounts of our agricultural products are being sent to Europe because the men engaged in fighting can't produce them there, and it is very plain to even the feeblest mind that when the war is over, war munitions will not be required there and the men of those lands will resume making and raising things for themselves.

Congress should not stop with indicating its belief that the pledged Panama Canal bonds to be sold to pay for the Mexican mobilization. It should explicitly direct that they be sold for that purpose. Let the Treasury recover the whole $228,711,200 now owed it and devote that sum to payment in part of this year's increases in the military and naval establishment! That would equalize the burden of a necessary correction of our military policy. It might also help, by dissipating Mr. McAdoo's pet reserve fund, to kill the mischievous and wasteful McAdoo ship purchase bill—New York Tribune.

The Progressives of Nebraska are taking no chances in their purpose to put the Democrats out of business. They have formally withdrawn their candidates for governor. United States Senate and elective state offices and have substituted the names of the Republican candidates. A Nebraska Progressive this year who wants to be an assistant Democrat cannot hide behind the cloak of his party ticket. He will have to shift his mark over bodily into the Democratic column.

In his annual address to Congress President Wilson gave utterance to a solemn warning of the country's danger from disloyalty, but later in a speech to a Milwaukee audience he said that, happily, the danger had passed. Unhappily, however, it seems that the danger has returned to confront us again, since he laid stress upon it in his Preparedness Day address in Washington.

After reading about the Mississippi floods that cover populous towns, some men go home and growl because they went over their rubbers at a street crossing.

POLICY?

Wilson Has None Avers Hughes' in Prying Lid off Campaign—Chief Lays Claim to Averting Conflict, Yet Seized Vera Cruz, Candidate Asserts.

Detroit, Mich., August 7.—Charles E. Hughes in the first set speech of his transcontinental trip tonight assailed the administration vigorously for its foreign policy, its Mexican policy, for appointing men whom he termed inexperienced to diplomatic posts and for what he characterized as "a raid upon the civil service of the United States." He delivered four other speeches during the day.

"He kept us out of war," Mr. Hughes said, referring to the President and a Democratic campaign slogan. "Yet we seized Vera Cruz. That was war—very ignoble war. And it was called war over the bodies of those dead soldiers; it was called a war of service."

"Talk about what is your policy. What is the president's policy—does any one know? Has the executive ever had a policy for more than six months on the Mexican situation? I repeat, who knows today what the policy of the administration will be three months hence? My friends the trouble is that this administration has written such a record that no matter what it says, you do not know whether it will stick to it."

"We have had an exhibition during the past three years which, I confess, fills me with a deep sense of shame. I have not a particle of militaristic spirit in my system, but if I am elected President I will see to it that American rights in Mexico are respected."

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration's course toward upholding American rights abroad during the European war.

As to American Rights

"When I say that I am an American, I mean to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenry is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights to stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder that chooses to take it."

The nominee cited the Republican platform's declaration that thirty thousand government positions had been taken from the operation of the civil service laws during the present administration and said that "that sort of thing has got to stop."

He told of an instance where, he said, "An eminent scientist" in the coast and geodetic survey, "a man of very eminent rank," had been "displaced to make room for an excellent stock breeder and veterinary surgeon." The Federal Trade Commission, Mr. Hughes charged, "was fairly emasculated with the law by the men for the most part who were appointed to places upon it."

It was "inexcusable," Mr. Hughes asserted, for the administration to take "in country after country in Latin America where we have frequently said we desired to cultivate the most friendly relations" men in the diplomatic service "who had represented the country with credit and had acquired an admirable and important experience and 'put in men utterly inexperienced.'"

Appointments Assailed

Past administrations the nominee said "had sinned in that particular, but standards were being made and there were men in our service of long experience and fine training." Other appointments by the President were assailed.

"If we are to have a Secretary of State," Mr. Hughes declared, "we want a man who will stand before the world as a man of learning, of skill, of experience, of power."

Booming cannons and cheers from 100,000 persons greeted the Republican Presidential nominee upon his arrival here today. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes rode at the head of a street parade which took place immediately after his arrival.

The reception was said to have exceeded in both crowds and enthusiasm that given Colonel Roosevelt when he came to Detroit two months ago.

Mr. Hughes was delighted at the cordial welcome and he was kept busy waving his hat and bowing in response to the greetings of the crowd.

HOW A TRUCK DRIVER GOT OUT AN EMERGENCY NEWSPAPER

Among the stories of "Interesting People" in the August American Magazine of the wagon drivers for the New York "World" had gone to press a big piece of news occurred. Clark had sense enough to see that it was big news. Without consulting anybody he gathered in a few printers and pressmen and got out an extra. He beat the town and a raise in salary was his reward. The piece of news which he so deftly handled was the death of King Edward VII.

MISGIVINGS EXIST IN ENGLAND. AS INQUIRIES FAIL TO BRING WORD REGARDING FATE OF KUT-EL-AMARA PRISONERS

London, August 7.—Apprehension exists as to the fate of the British prisoners taken at the time of the surrender of Kut-el-Amara to the Turks.

Lord Robert Cecil said in the House of Commons today that repeated inquiries had been made through the American Embassy at Constantinople to ascertain the whereabouts of these prisoners, but that no reply had been received from the Porte.

This, he said, inspired considerable misgivings, as the prisoners were compelled after the fall of Kut-el-Amara, to cross the desert at the worst season of the year.

District Game Warden of This Section of the State of Kentucky Now in This City and County—Says That Game Laws Will Be Enforced.

Mr. H. E. Porter, the district game warden of this section of the State of Kentucky, is now in the city in the interest of the obedience of the state game laws.

Mr. Porter said that the Game and Fish Commission would make great efforts this year to suppress poaching and violation of any of the laws. He said that the Commission would be very strict on the matter of breaking the laws and that it would prosecute any person violating the same. He urged the co-operation of all hunters, trappers and fishers and especially urged the aid of the farmers in helping to enforce the law.

The following are the laws as furnished to the Ledger by Mr. Porter:

Hunting License

All resident owners, landlords and tenants and members of their family may hunt upon their own land without license (when lawful). Unlawful to hunt upon adjoining land without license even when permission is secured from owner or occupant. Unlawful to hunt without license in your possession.

HUNGER IS DRIVING ARMENIANS TO "EAT GRASS AND LOCUSTS, DEAD ANIMALS AND HUMANS"

Boston, August 7.—Details of a desperate condition of deported Armenians in the deserts of Northern Arabia and the lower Euphrates Valley are contained in a cable dispatch made public by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief tonight.

According to the dispatch witnesses have seen famished Armenians "eating grass, herbs and locusts, and in desperate cases, animals found dead and human bodies are reported to have been eaten."

The dispatch continues: "The witnesses have seen thousands of deported Armenians under tents in the open, in caravans on the march, descending the river in boats, and in all phases of their miserable life."

"Only in few places does the Government issue any rations, and those quite insufficient. The people, therefore, themselves are forced to satisfy their hunger with food begged in that scanty land or found in the parched fields."

"Naturally the death rate from starvation and sickness is very high and

MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with my medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. T. F. CLOYD, 1355 North Gulick Ave., Decatur, Ill.

Expectant mothers should profit by Mrs. Cloyd's experience, and trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Free confidential advice had by addressing Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ASKS FOR DAMAGES

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday Mr. Lee R. Fox of the county filed suit against Dr. Leslie Brand of this city for damages done to his horse by an automobile being driven by Dr. Brand. The plaintiff states that in the month of June, 1916, that he was driving over the Lexington Pike when he was met by the defendant driving his automobile at a dangerous speed. He states that the defendant saw him in time to stop the speed of the machine but did not do so. The machine struck the horse the plaintiff was driving and injured it severely. Mr. Fox asks for $250 and all costs and proper relief.

EXCAVATING RAPIDLY

The contractors, Cary, Reed & Co., who have the contract for the construction of the asphalt streets in the Sixth Ward, are making excellent time with the work of excavating. The street is dug out as far up as Cottage street. They have finished the curbing entirely. The only thing holding them back is the inability to get the turnout for the street-car track but they will be able to get that within two weeks. It is reported that several hundred more feet of the turnout has been ordered.

LOCAL MEN'S SISTER DIES

Mrs. James Faulkner died at her home in Flemingsburg Monday morning about ten o'clock after a lingering illness. She was the sister of Mr. John Smith of Forest avenue and Mr. Ben T. Smith of Sixth street of this city. The funeral will be held from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Y. W. A.

Of the First Baptist Church of This City Make Interesting Report of Work Done Since Organization.

The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church closed their year's work at their regular monthly meeting Monday evening, August 7th. The program was very instructive consisting of a letter from our Missionary, whom we are helping to support, also reports of our work and plans for another year were made and discussed, after which refreshments were served which was enjoyed by all present. We are very sorry that Mrs. Veale will not be our leader for another year because of ill health, but we will show our appreciation of her by continuing the great work she has done among us.

Following is a brief report of our year's work which was sent to the Bracken Association by one of our delegates:

The Young Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church of Maysville, was organized August 1, 1915. Our membership has been steadily growing until our present membership is thirty of our earnest, working, Christian young women. Our leader Mrs. L. H. Veale, has spared neither time or acts of service to teach the purpose of our mission in giving our service to our Master. We have had our twelve regular meetings besides five call meetings, our attendance is so encouraging that we are very hopeful for better success during our second year's work. We are using Royal Service, and find it very good to keep up the Y. W. A. programs which it contains. We are especially interested in one of our number who is attending the W. M. U. Training School, preparing for service on the Foreign Field. We are contributing to her support while in school, and will continue to support her wherever she is called to service. During the year we have made a total of $100.50 from various phases of our work. Following is a brief summary of part of our special work: With a penny collection for the first month the proceeds $5.35; Candy Sale, proceeds $9.40; Banquet, proceeds $22.00; Special Program for our Missionary, proceeds from a free-will offering $44.29. We also have a special fund for our Missionary which many of our members find pleasure in contributing to. We believe every church in our Southern Baptist Convention territory should organize one or more auxiliaries, for there is no greater work than training our young people in this great missionary movement.

MISS EVA HUGHES, President.

PARK TO BE OPENED

At the meeting of City Council Monday night January Park at the corner of Union and East Third streets was placed in the hands of Messrs. Davis and Harrison with the power to convert it into a play ground. Several have suggested that a tennis court be laid out in the park. This would require a little money and a small space. To make the park popular a baseball diamond and a couple of tennis courts would turn the trick. But at least something should be done to preserve the trees in the park as they are being cut and mutilated by the boys now playing there. With proper care this park could be made an excellent playground.

R. L. WILSON

The funeral of Mr. R. L. Wilson, Sr., aged seventy-four, who died at his home in Millersburg, Friday, after a long illness, was held from the family residence Sunday afternoon at four o'clock with services conducted by Rev. J. D. Redd, assisted by Rev. Gardner and Prof. C. C. Fisher.

Mr. Wilson was a former resident of Mason county, and moved to Millersburg several years ago. About a year ago he sustained a fractured hip and shoulder as the result of a fall in the yard at his home, and never fully recovered. He is survived by a widow and two sons—Thos. Wilson, operator at Robinson, on the L. & N. and Jesse Wilson, of Millersburg.

The burial took place in the Millersburg cemetery, with services at the grave by the Masonic bodies, of which he had long been a worthy member.—Bourbon News.

CONCRETING STREET CAR TRACK

The street car track between Poplar and Union streets will be concreted this week if the contractors keep up the present rate of speed. The only trouble seems to be getting sand.

WHAT DOLLAR WILL DO

Interesting Paper on the Work Now Being Done by the Women's Clubs in Kentucky.

Somewhere in Kentucky there is a man who is not able to read the ballot that he will cast in November. There are thousands of them, if they had the chance they could learn to read and to write by November. However you may feel and think—notice that I put "feel"—first—you certainly will concede that it is woman's right to insist that the man who casts the ballot for the family and makes or mars good government should be able to read the ballot that he casts.

Our Legislature did not give sufficient appropriations for the moonlight schools which means the doing away with illiteracy, for every man who is a man and denies the right of the ballot to women wants to read the ballot that he casts and every mother whose son and whose daughter have gone out into the great wide world wants to be able to write to them and to read the confidences herself which they write to her.

Just one dollar will buy books, slate and all things needed to teach one man to read the ballot that he will cast in November or to make it possible for the old loving mother to give counsel and advice to the daughter and the son away from home among strangers. Will you not give that dollar or part of that dollar. Ten cents will mean a writing book, five cents a tablet, 25 cents a reader. This week is the week Mason county wants to stand near the head of the line in this campaign to decrease illiteracy. The committee in charge of the work on raising funds in this county is composed of the following well-known ladies: Mrs. George Longnecker, Miss Grace Bierbower, Mrs. T. M. Russell, Mrs. R. B. Lovell, Mrs. Eugene Merz, Miss Annie Piers, Mrs. Leslie Worthington, Miss Lottie Berry, Mrs. Abner Hord, Mrs. M. Galanty, Mrs. James Ross, Miss Jessie Yancey, Mrs. A. L. Merz, Mrs. Stanley Reed, Mrs. R. K. Hoeflich.

PILES SUIT

Against C. & O. Railroad for Damage Done to Land When Coal From a Wreck Is Placed Upon It.

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday through his attorney, A. D. Cole, John Otto of Springdale filed suit against the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad for damages done to his property when coal from a wreck was placed upon it.

The plaintiff states that he is the owner of a tract of land situated near Springdale and that at all times mentioned in the suit the defendant operated its line of railway over a right of way through his land; that on the 18th day of March 1916, and divers other days between this time and the commencement of the court action, the defendant, its agents and servants having unlawfully entered upon his property, then and there dumped railroad cars and ballast and debris thereon, and in addition thereto shoveled about twenty thousand bushels of slack coal upon his land from the cars which had been wrecked on its right of way. He stated that the ballast and slack coal was permitted to wash in and upon his land whereby the use of the land has been destroyed for the purpose of cultivation all to his damage in the sum of five hundred dollars.

He asks for damages in the sum of five hundred dollars against the defendant corporation and for all proper relief.

It will be remembered that in the large freight wreck below Springdale last March twenty-two cars of coal were wrecked. This was dumped on Mr. Otto's land and permitted to remain there for some time.
